📍 San Diego

Michael Russo is an associate attorney in the Business Practice Group at Best Best & Krieger LLP (BBK), where his practice focuses primarily on real estate and business transactions. He represents a diverse client base that spans both the public and private sectors, including small businesses, start-ups, banks, developers, hospitals, universities, cities, and special districts.

Based in the firm's San Diego office, Michael blends his legal experience and strategic insight to guide clients on a wide array of real estate matters, including office, industrial, retail, mixed-use, special-purpose, and ground leases. His practice also encompasses negotiating license agreements, acquisitions, estoppel certificates, due diligence, and title and survey reviews. In addition, Michael is well-versed in business entity formation, corporate governance, and negotiating various business contracts, offering clients comprehensive solutions that extend beyond just legal advice.

Michael takes a hands-on approach to every deal, ensuring it moves smoothly from negotiation to closing while keeping the focus on aligning legal strategies with his clients' business goals. Known for his pragmatic and results-driven mindset, he leverages his diverse background in bankruptcy and litigation to approach complex transactions.

He represents individuals, privately owned and closely held businesses, and large companies with national operations.

Before joining BBK, Michael honed his skills at various San Diego law firms, representing healthcare practitioners and clients involved in bankruptcy, business, injury, insurance, real estate, and transactional matters.

A proud San Diego native with deep Sicilian roots, Michael is an avid sports fan, with a passion for soccer and his hometown Padres. In his downtime, he enjoys playing chess, travelling, concerts, and enjoying the local cultural scene.
