Greg Snarr is a partner in Best Best & Krieger LLP's Eminent Domain and Business practice groups. His practice broadly encompasses all aspects of business law and business litigation, labor and employment, trademarks, company formation, construction litigation, real-property acquisitions, eminent domain and inverse condemnation actions, as well as all aspects and stages of complex, commercial litigation in state and federal courts.

His litigation experience includes multiple trials involving eminent domain, quiet title, business disputes and labor and employment issues. Greg has also navigated international litigation proceedings as well as completed dozens of arbitration and mediation proceedings. Greg has successfully, been involved in many types of business disputes in labor and employment claims, and many general commercial litigation matters, including contract disputes, unfair competition, trade libel, fraud, antitrust, and false advertising. For years, Greg has helped construction companies navigate the complexities and issues common to the industry. Greg regularly represents private and public clients in all facets of litigation, including motion, trial and appellate practice. His eminent domain litigation experience includes acquisitions of rights of way for major public improvement projects as well as valuation issues, water adjudications, and land use and zoning restrictions.
