Callum (“Cal”) Armijo is a member of Best Best & Krieger LLP’s (BBK) Municipal Law practice group. He is responsible for assisting cities and public agencies with the wide range of municipal, code enforcement and constitutional law matters that they encounter.

Prior to joining BBK, Cal was a litigation associate with two other Los Angeles area law firms, where he gained significant experience in the areas of real estate, business, and toxic tort litigation. In addition to handling litigation matters from inception through completion, Cal drafted sale agreements for commercial, residential and unique properties, and handled business entity dissolutions, water rights, title issues and a variety of other real estate-associated concerns. He also has experience with complex, multi-party litigation proceedings resulting in multi-million dollar settlements.

While attending UCLA Law, Cal completed externships with both state and federal judges, and interned with the National Labor Relations Board, the California Coastal Commission, and the Frank D. Lanterman Regional Center.

Although he was born and raised in northern New Mexico, Cal now resides in Los Angeles with his partner.
